October 14, 1918 - December 23, 2016

Beloved mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Marion Miller Aiello, aged 98, passed away at home in Milford on December 23, 2016, surrounded by the love of family. A longtime resident of New Haven, Connecticut, Marion was born on October 14, 1918, the daughter of Raymond and Mabel (Phelps) Miller. Marion had a formative Catholic upbringing and deep faith that sustained her throughout her life. In the 1970's, Marion was a lunch room aide at Helen Street School in Hamden. Her greatest enjoyment was spending time visiting, celebrating and traveling with her cherished family. “ Such precious memories of a sweet, beautiful person - always so thoughtful and loving.

More than neighbors on Maple Street, our families shared a special relationship built on love. I'm so glad I could share, a few years ago, in Marion's special birthday celebration. It was a blessing to see everyone so happy and full of life. Her radiance will continue to shine within everyone she touched. That's a light that could never be extinguished.

Blessings and love, Roz Croog

“ My sister, Louise, and I extend our heartfelt condolences to Robert, Donna and Kathy. Your mother and father were among our parents' closest friends. At a time when our parents were newcomers to New Haven and St. Brendan, John and Marion reached out to them with a friendship that was cherished right up to the end of their lives. The many shared experiences of trips, church activities and endless stories of times spent together were treasured. My prayer is that you will always sense of her presence - along with that of your Dad - in ways that will accompany you and give you comfort, strength and a quick smile. My mother is thrilled, no doubt, to be reunited with her dear friend. Our love always, Sr. Mariette and Louise
