“ Dear Family, We are so sorry to read of Vincent's death. He was our music teacher in seventh grade at the Village Street School building. We were in the North Haven High School class of 1965 and seventh grade was at Village Street while the "Junior High School" was being built. He tried to teach me to play the Alto Sax and my wife the clarinet. Our practice room was a closet at the top of a narrow stair off the gym. We should have practiced more, but we were only kids and did not know better. We are so sorry for your loss.

“ Dear Family, Mr. T. was the best! He spent hours with me teaching me to play the flute, which he did and I went on with the instrument as first chair in the high school band and orchestra. He was truly remarkable and touched my life in a very profound way! I was just speaking of him the other day, I have never forgotten him as one of my most favorite and caring teachers and I graduated from North Haven in '75.
I am truly sorry for your loss.
