“ Carlos, what I am today I am thanks to you. Almost two decades you were there for me. I never thought I would loose my friend. Your support, your advice, setting my head straight when my temper came through. Only 250 words maximum on this page...there is no number of words big enough to express my gratitude to you and being thankful for the day we met. Thank you for being you.

“ I am deeply saddened by Carlos' passing. Unfortunately the years have passed by and we lost touch after spending a number of years together at Stauffer Chemical in our first jobs in Chicago. I was not even aware of his illness until receiving a call from Marty Matushek a few weeks ago. Your husband/father will be missed and I once again send my condolences to all of you.

“ I had the pleasure to work with Carlos at Stauffer Chemical from 1984 - 1987. We were both "Sales Pups" together working for the famous (and infamous) Art Luebbing. We shared many adventures and stories together. Carlos' departure comes way too soon. He was a Great Guy. He will be missed by me and many others. ("Enjoy every sandwich." Warren Zevon)
