“ Dear Tom, Peter and David,
My mother and I were surprised and saddened to hear of your loss. Betsy was truly a wonderful woman, and some of my fondest childhood memories revolve around our next door neighbors, the Grays, in North Haven. She had a great sense of humor and a lot of patience with the neighborhood kids. I got to know her pretty well in later life and she was a very bright and articulate person, as well as a fine human being in general. I know you will miss her terribly, and I can only remind her survivors that God will have mercy on even the meanest and smallest of his creatures. How much more mercy will he bestow on Betsy, one of his finest achievements?
God bless and keep you all. Friedrich Boettger Ilse Boettger
