

James L. Champion

January 8, 1943 - April 28, 2017

James Leonard Champion, 74 years old, of New Haven, Connecticut died on the afternoon of April 28th 2017. Jim was born on January 8th 1943. He was the first-born son of Leonard and Virginia (Daly) Champion and was shortly joined by 11 brothers and sisters. Jim was married to Patricia (Rossi) Champion for 28 years. Jim held a BS from Maine Maritime Academy, class of 1969, and a BS in accounting from Providence College, class of 1973. Jim, a spiritual and thoughtful man, loved the ocean, golf, and opera. Jim is survived by his former wife Patricia and his children Michael, Kevin and Emily (Champion) Crowley and their children. May our beloved father, brother, uncle, and friend rest in ever-lasting peace.

Plans for private memorials in Connecticut and California are forthcoming. In lieu of flowers, please make donations to the John P. Burke Memorial Fund, providing college scholarships to deserving caddies and golf club employees across the country. To leave an online condolence please visit www.siskbrothers.com

“ Dear Pat, I have fond memories of you and Jim volunteering in the little drug abuse program I ran in 1970. I remember because you're such fine people. My heart goes out to you, and I'm so sorry for your loss.
