“ Death of a loved one is never easy. May you find an abundance of comfort in your family, friends and especially the future blessings found in God's word. He has promised to swallow up death forever and reunite us with all who fall asleep in death. (Isaiah 25:8, John 5:28,29) As a God of love who cannot lie we can certainly trust all he says to come true. (1 John 4:8 & Titus 1:2) It is my hope that these words and the fond memories of your loved one sustain you through this most difficult time.

“ My heart aches. Joe was about 12 or 13 and the most adorable kid when I first met him. He and my daughter Lindsey were inseparable and I always thought of him then as a second son, So many funny memories including him jumping out our bathroom window so I wouldn't know he had been in the house. Joe your a daddy now and someday mason will be knocking on some beautiful girls door just like you used to do at our door:). Rest in peace Joey .

“ My brother was the best man God ever created. I want to believe he made a mistake. He took the wrong one at the wrong time. But everyone keeps telling me that everything happens for a reason so I'm trying my hardest to take comfort in that. I vow to you my baby brother that I will always look out for your son as if he were my own and that baby will never forget where he came from or how much you worshipped him. He was your life and you were his. I thank God that We all have him as a piece of you living and loving on. I can't describe how much I miss you already... Now you can give Gram n Poppy a break and take care of Aaliyah Hope ! I know she loves having the worlds most awesome uncle around.... You will always be the Best and no one will ever compare. Until we meet again Baby Boy....sleep with the Angels.

“ Wayyyy back before life got crazy Joe and I were childhood friends. I remember spending a school delay at his house playing olympic ski and bobsled games on his N64. Boy does time fly and life tends to change everything suddenly.

“ So many good times with all the civitellis around 2001 and 2002 Joe and I met randomly in hamden he was riding his bike with his friend Anthony and I was walking to Henny Penny with Kelly hodder. We became inseperable shortly there after and dated for about a year or so. It was that young "love" that every one has experienced in their life. I spent almost every day after school hanging with joe and Chris and all our friends In their garage they made a lil hangout spot down there. We rode the mopeds and went to legion field and played on the rope swing and just had a blast. I have so many memories of joe and although it has been like ten years since I've talked or seen joe I'm still very sad over his passing. I'll never forget you joe. Rip I'll see u up there some day.
