“ Kat was like a sister to me in spirit. I loved being able to share the stories told by Ei of her escapades and adventures. I sensed her strength and convictions through these stories. My condolences to all her family.

“ So many memories of Sunday mornings on the living room carpet being taught how to play "slap jack", "war", "crazy eights" and many more card games. As we got older we went to "card parties" & watched her, Uncle Jimmy & Uncle Bobby along with many others play cards during picnics - this is where we learned how to "bet to win". Bingo was another favorite & we all learned how to play at an early age - even after Auntie Kats stroke we still took her to bingo whenever it was possible & as much trouble as she had seeing her bingo cards she still managed to play multiple cards!! We will always love you Auntie Kat & I thank you for all the wonderful childhood memories!!!

“ Katherine may not have had children of her own, but her nieces and nephews were a very significant part of her life. She is survived by nieces Lynn Colligan, Kristin (Tim) Judd, and Bridget Smith, and nephew James (Ron Tinnel) Colligan. Great-nieces Bridget and Shannon Judd, and Sway Antol, and great-nephew Sean Judd. She will be sadly missed.
