“ I am shocked and saddened by the passing of Kevin. I was traveling in California all last week and just found out by email today and am at such a loss for words. Kevin introduced me to the SEGP program at Albertus Magnus and convinced me to make one of the best decisions of my life. He was a delightful man and I will miss his warm smile and kind way.
My sympathies go out to his family and friends at this difficult time.

“ I wouldn't be in school if it wasn't for Kevin guiding me in the right direction in the beginning of my ALbertus adult accelerated program. To go back to school is a scary thing and if not given the right direction, it is easy to give up. I will be always grateful for that. God bless

“ Dear Panagrossi family - please accept my sincere and heartfelt condolences for your loss. I am so deeply saddened to learn of Kevin’s passing. Kevin was the one person I felt I could always rely on at Albertus Magnus – always willing to answer my questions and always ready to assist. He did so with a smile and a pleasant attitude. “If a man hasn't discovered something that he will die for, he isn't fit to live: (Martin Luther King Jr.). I believe Kevin knew his purpose in life as well as his colleagues, family and friends. Kevin's coaching and mentorship has been a powerful transformation in students' lives at Albertus Magnus College. Kevin has helped many achieve his/hers academic goals, including myself.

Let us always remember what Kevin P. Panagrossi has accomplished personally, his education and providing for his family and professionally, for his country and for being part of the educational systems in Connecticut.

May the Panagrossi family finds peace and remembers all the wonderful memories, they shared with Kevin for many years.

Please accept my most sincere condolences on the loss of Kevin.
