“ I wish I was a great poet who could write a moving poem celebrating your life that i have known for over 50 years, but I am not, so all I can do is continue my prayers that before were asking for healing and now will ask for the raising up of your soul to the Lord our God, and based on how good you were, I doubt if I will need many prayers for that.

“ A very dear friend who will be missed every day-he meant so much to many because of his giving nature. When he went someplace he either found someone he knew or he made a new friend.

Rest In Peace.
