“ I am the Executive Director at Middlebrook Farms Trumbull, where Donna, daughter of Mr. Nagle, is our valued Director of Business Administration. When Donna told me that she was bringing her Dad to reside with us at Middlebrook, it was to me a sign of trust that left me speechless. Dick quickly became a fixture at Middlebrook, known to all and as this picture shows, always with a twinkle in his eye and a joy that was very genuine. He was a true gentleman, and it is not hard therefore to see why daughter Donna is the strong, ethical and kind soul she is. Donna watched over her Dad's care closely as his advocate, and visited him sometimes several times a day, often with a special meal she'd made for him, or his beloved Reese's peanut butter cups. Her quiet, enduring and steadfast love for her father was moving, and a witness to all. We teach others in many ways, sometimes simply by doing what is right, even when it is difficult. That is Donna. It has been an honor to have Dick with us, and we miss him already. May he rest in Heavenly Peace, and may you, Donna, and all your family rest in the knowledge of a sacred job very well done. With love and prayers, Julia
