“ Janet, Rich and your families. I am sorry for your loss. Your dad was one of the nicest men/dad's I have ever met. He was always happy to see me and always had a smile and a kind word no matter how long it had been between visits. I am sure he is in a loving place. with your mom now, and will always be watching over you.

Love to all of you,

“ Sidney and his brother, Bernie, were the most friendly, caring, welcoming neighbors one could ever hope to have, and between them set a tone of community and mutual vigilance for the entire neighborhood. "We'll make a farmer out of you yet," Sidney used to promise me, and he loved to take me on a tour of his own flowers and vegetable patch, of which he was very proud--and had every right to be, because he had a real knack for growing things, and loved fresh fruit and vegetables.

On so many weekend mornings, knowing my fondness for really good quality bread, he would leave freshly-baked baguettes from a baker he particularly liked, and I'd wake up to find them . . . or, sometimes, he'd leave me a little bag of some his own fresh-picked vegetables from his patch.

He was a man who really lived piety and goodness: these weren't just words for him, on a Sunday in church--they were a way of life for him, and anybody who knew him could sense the example he set for all of us.

*Dear Janet, Richard & Family,
I was sorry to hear about Sid's passing. I don't think I ever saw him without a smile on his face. He always enjoyed ribbing me about my editorials in the register whenever I'd run into him. Even with his disabilities, he didn't miss a trick.
He was certainly a man who relished in his blessings over dwelling in his burdens!
My family and I send you all our deepest Sympathies.
